THANK YOU

Firstly Sam, Kerry, Nick and Lisa would like to thank you all so much for your support today. Also, to those who are not here but have taken part in the day by way of sponsorship, donation and prizes for the raffle and auction. We are so grateful to each and every one of you.

Special thanks to Denis Chambers (Kerry's dad) who kindly donated the holiday for the auction.

We really hope you enjoy the day in what is our second Annual Golf Day!

All proceeds from today will be split evenly between The Matt Palmer Trust, Target Ovarian Cancer and Miles Stockwell— two charities that are very close to our hearts and for Miles, we hope that this donation will help him in some small way.

Harvey Green

"In December 2018, after a lengthy battle with mental health, our son Harvey and loving brother to Joe, Jordie, Zac and Oscar took his own life..... he was 18 years old. He struggled with severe depression and anxiety and as a result ended up using drugs as a way to help him. Harv was such a happy kid, it is so hard to understand how this happened and the loss of Harv has devastated our entire family and shook us to our core. Despite our numerous attempts to get him the help he needed, the resources to support him simply were not there. That is why we are raising money for the Matt Palmer Trust, because too many young men fall through the cracks without ever getting the much needed help until it is too late. By supporting our fundraising efforts you are ensuring that the Matt Palmer Trust can try to reach so many more people who need help and show them that there is always another way. We miss Harv desperately every day and our lives will never be the same again" (Nick and Lisa Green)

Louise Chambers

"Mum was poorly from December 2017 but none of us understood quite what pain she was in. The symptoms of ovarian cancer are so easily mistaken for other much more common illnesses. Unless you see the right doctor at the right time and the symptoms are picked up early and not mistakenly diagnosed as something less sinister it is often at too late a stage that women find themselves diagnosed with Ovarian Cancer. By the time my beautiful mum was diagnosed the cancer was already at stage 4 and complications sadly meant us losing mum too quickly.

Mum was fit and healthy, or so we thought, and most definitely selfless. Every day we live with the regret of not spotting the signs early enough. Mum would jog every day, go swimming, go to the gym, a firm believer in meditation. Despite all of this mum's tummy always looked bloated. Cancer was just a word until that moment. We didn't know the signs of ovarian cancer and every day is a day of regret that had we been able to pick this up so much earlier we would all be spending precious days with mum now. We couldn't stop mum leaving us physically and she will always be with us, but we can stop this happening to any more women, Wives, Mums, Sisters, Nans.

Unlike breast and prostate cancer, there is no screening programme for ovarian cancer, which is why so many women get diagnosed when it's too late - the symptoms are easily mistaken with other less serious illnesses. So, please help us raise as much money as possible for a charity that is working hard to improve early diagnosis, fund GP awareness, fund life-saving research and support to women and their families with ovarian cancer"

Martin Collins

On the 24th June 2021 I lost a good friend in Martin Collins. Martin was a good friend to a lot of people here today. He was the life and soul at any party. He was charismatic, funny, clever, a magician by trade whose job it was to put a smile on people's faces. Yet he was so low and struggling so much the only option he felt he had was to end his own life. I often find myself reading the messages I have from him in the build up to him taking his own life questioning should I have done more,? why didn't I go and see him? but I know and understand there is nothing I could have done. Martin had suffered for many years with this and that's why days like today are so important! AWARENESS is the answer and days like today will hopefully help even if a little to make people aware of how important mental health is and why we can all play a part in making sure people are ok. It is ok to be struggling, it's ok to ask for help. We must all be aware of the serious implications mental health has on everyone. Today won't bring Martin back but if it helps save 1 persons life then it has all been worthwhile. Martin we all miss you mate, sorry we couldn't help you but we will be banging the drum and making sure we do all we can to help others in your memory.

Miles Stockwell

This year we have decided to dedicate part of our day and donations to Miles Stockwell. Last year Miles went to the doctors complaining of a bad knee. This resulted in him being referred for a scan. Of all the things Miles & his family expected to come back from the results of the scan, bone cancer certainly wasn't one of them. Miles has since gone through gruelling chemotherapy. He then subsequently received the devastating news that he would have to have his leg fully amputated. Thankfully he has now made a full recovery, but still has a lengthy journey for rehabilitation.

Everything Miles has gone through is heart breaking and something no young lad should ever have to endure. He has been an inspiration throughout his treatment and continues to inspire everyone with his positive attitude and sheer determination. To not let this awful situation hold him back is awe inspiring. We want to raise as much money as possible for Miles to help with his rehab or maybe send him on a holiday of a life time with his family, so please give generously and help us make a small difference to Miles and his family
